

BREAKFAST BRIEFS.

A complete Collection of News Items and Happenings of the Day.

Don Celso Baca won't be bulldozed worth a cent.

Ice begins to form to a considerable thickness these long nights.

"Republicanism is bolting if we can't rule."—Evening Backslider.

The first grand army uniform in the territory can be seen at Billy's.

The Denver and New Orleans surveyors have reached the vicinity of Trinidad.

And now is the whisky turn in clover. He drinks with both sides often and long.

Politicians in this county are about as badly muddled as in any place on earth.

"Oh, what shall I do to be saved?"—R. A. K. Why, make another flop, of course.

Another county convention to-day. The democratic clans are gathering for the onset.

Be sure that you are registered, if you wish to exercise the highest rights of freemen.

Union nuts are plentiful. Everybody eats them, the new comer as well as the old timer.

Billy Burton shows up well in a uniform. Well, he ought to, and so ought anybody else.

The people's favorite, Frank Manzanares, is the way the Socorro San heads it's ticket.

The potato crop on the Sugarite in Colfax county, will amount to 300,000 pounds this year.

The rule or ruin policy is being carried out by the "sanides." Well, they can't rule, so it must be ruin.

Fred G. Hennessy has an able assistant of Don Felipe Baca in getting up the records of the county.

Jaffa Brothers had a big run of trade yesterday, on account of the low prices at which they are selling out.

Territorial politics are about as badly mixed as some of the cocktails shoved over the bars at Albuquerque.

Kistler bolts a convention with as much sang froid as he bolts his breakfast. He has bolted two within a week.

The people of the east side want an evening paper they can out some dependence in, and they will soon have one.

Some respectable young man left a large portion of his stomach on the plaza last night. Who he was we will not tell.

Capt. A. G. Stark is being urged by his friends to accept the office of justice of the peace. The Captain would make a good one.

At 3 o'clock in the morning the comet's tail is about two rods' lengths above the horizon. The body comes up at a later hour.

Judge Prince is president of the republican association of Santa Fe. The association is making an active campaign in that county.

Judge Lee could have been nominated by a majority vote in the committee on nominations, but his friends insisted on a unanimous endorsement.

Yesterday, the tension of the day previous greatly subsided, and old friends seemed to meet in something like a feeling of good fellowship.

Kistler says he will support the fusion ticket if everything is made satisfactory. It is likely that no effort will be put forth to make it satisfactory.

The Optic has the neck of libeling respectable citizens in a way that would do credit to the most scurrilous Tammany sheet in New York city.

A big pool game will come off soon between Harry Cotter, of the Exchange saloon, and a gentleman from Socorro. A large sum of money will be bet on each side.

Crook has threatened to give no quarter to the Apaches if they break out again. He will not even spare the women and children. That's business from the word go.

It now appears that there were more votes cast than there were delegates in the county convention when they ratified Luna's nomination. Had a square count been taken, the result would have been different.

There are several politicians on the east side who are anxious to take the honorable Celso Baca's place on the ticket in case he resigns. But he may not resign, although the bosses have tried to force him to do so.

The Exchange hotel is catching most of the southern country trade, as they all knew Paul in the days of "aid lang syne." Mr. Crawford says he must have more room, or less custom, and he will give the latter preference.

The indexes of the county records are complete, and parties can now gain all the information they desire in regard to titles to real estate. Much credit is due Don Felipe Baca for his unremitting efforts to clear the county records of their mystification.

The evening paper wants to know what kind of a man J. B. Watrous is. J. B. Watrous is a first-class man, whose word is as good as his bond, and who is endowed not only with personal but political honesty, and believes in square-toed consistency.

It would seem from the tone of the evening backslider, that its direct purpose was to bolt the republican convention, a convention in which there were 38 votes for Luna to 14 for Manzanares, so said. The last week has been one of the liveliest slapping, flopping and bolting which has occupied our contemporary for some time.

A. Paul Crawford's announcement as independent candidate for county clerk appears in this issue. Paul is eminently qualified for the position, and is sure to receive a large support.

There being no grounds upon which to abuse Mr. Manzanares, some of the principal papers of the territory are manufacturing stories in regard to what Mr. Manzanares has said about proins and miners. The papers that publish these lies know that they are wholly false, and made up out of whole cloth.

Don Lorenzo Lopez authorizes us to state that the assertion in last evening's Optic that he had been empowered, or assumed to make a county ticket is false from beginning to end. It had, been proposed to him to make a ticket and he absolutely refused to do so. He did not make the ticket, and did not attempt to do so. Such assertions are easily made by journals which have greater tendencies toward falsehood than truth.

"Below we publish the letter of Mr. Manzanares, accepting the nomination of the democratic party for delegate to congress from New Mexico. It is the most statesmanlike document which ever emanated from any candidate in New Mexico, and stands in need of no comment or explanation at our hands. Already it is bearing fruit, as shown by the extract from the Las Vegas GAZETTE which we publish immediately following the letter."—Lone Star.

The committee on nominations, one from each precinct, in the republican convention, was entirely unwieldy. It was too big by about seven-eighths, and which naturally reported a ticket, which surprised everybody. There seemed to be a hostility existing in the country precincts against the city, and for that reason the town was pretty well ignored. This is a great mistake, as candidates should be selected for their fitness for the position, regardless of where they live.

The Albuquerque Review is rightly named. It is nothing but a review of its exchanges, and Saunders, the intellectual monstrosity, who spends his leisure time in penning insipid articles, but is employed to work an antiquated Washington press, is to be more pitied than blamed. A man who sits down, too lazy to gather news, and fills his columns with vituperation and falsehood, and thinks it is journalism, is too much a knave by education and a fool by birth to occupy any other position in life than that of a dance hall rustler or a "fancy" man of the town.

D. M. Brown in company with W. R. Kistler, of this city, returned yesterday from a short visit to Tiptonville, on the occasion of the fifty-third birthday anniversary of Rev. Thomas Harwood, who resides at that place. They report a flourishing school in operation at Tiptonville, taught by Mrs. Thomas Harwood. There are about thirty-five students in attendance; part Mexican and part American.

The cheerful expression of the room, the order observed, the interest evidently taken by each student, and degree of advancement attained; reflect the fact that Mrs. Harwood is in her element when engaged in educational work. This school, though two miles from the railroad, though not so conspicuous as others, on the line of railroad, is evidently doing a grand work, which will be of permanent good in the territory. These elements are factors of true progress.

The republicans and democrats of Socorro county, on Saturday last, made a fusion ticket. Their method of doing it was simple and effective. A conference committee agreed upon the offices which each should fill, and then each party held its meetings at separate places and made their nominations.

The republicans nominated S. C. Meek, for clerk; representatives, D. H. Wenger and F. A. Thompson; county commissioner, J. G. Barney; coroner, Canute Torres; justice of the peace, J. M. Shaw. The democrats nominated for probate judge, Frank Buchanan; for treasurer, Timoteo Ortiz; for commissioners, George Rayfield and Luciano Chaves; for sheriff, Andres Montoya; for school commissioners, Wm. Brown, Martin and Bernardino Chaves; for senator, George W. Fox. The united parties will place Frank Manzanares at the head of the ticket.

At a meeting of Thomas Post No. 1, last evening, the following ladies were nominated and solicited to act in conjunction with the soldiers committee on decorating Wyman hall, for the anniversary of Sheridan's great ride to the battle of Winchester. The gentlemen of the committee will meet at 10 o'clock in the morning at J. J. Fitzgerald's office, and the ladies are requested to meet at the Wyman building at 10 a.m.

The following is the committee: Ladies—Mrs. A. G. Stark, Mrs. Dr. Peebles, Mrs. A. P. Crawford, Mrs. H. J. Franklin, Miss Oma Stonerod, Mrs. A. W. Reinhold, Mrs. J. C. Layton, Mrs. Jeff Raynolds, Mrs. L. C. Fort, Mrs. H. H. Hutton, Mrs. O. H. McCormick, Mrs. C. P. Hovey, Mrs. M. S. Hart, Miss Ida Wiley, Miss Carrie Stoops, Grace Keller, Lizzie Fraley, Belle Jennings, Nannie Wisner, Miss Louisa Boughton, Jennie Hixon, Miss Wooster, Fannie Ester, Miss Lou McKay, Miss Mary E. Lovinger, Miss Nellie Stone.

Gentlemen—J. J. Fitzgerald, H. J. Franklin, A. P. Crawford, Orlando Smith, Daniel Lee, A. Mickesell, John B. Means, W. C. Burton, O. O. Clark, A. W. Reinhold.

Rev. Mr. Porter will deliver an address entitled "The Heroine of Ava," at the Baptist chapel, on Thursday evening, Oct. 19th.

The subject of this address was the wife of one of the first missionaries to India, and was intimately connected with the thrilling events of the Anglo-Burmese war, her services receiving the highest commendation of the British commander.

Admission 25 cents. Children under fifteen years ten cents.

KINGSTON.

What is Going on in That Lively Camp.

Kingston, N. M., Oct. 13, 1882. Ed. GAZETTE: Since my last short letter to you I have been very busy, and have not had time to write. Everything is hurry and bustle here, everybody is building and those who are not are waiting for lumber to commence with. Messrs. Lockhart & Co., of Las Vegas, are shipping in large quantities of lumber and building material, but it is impossible to supply the demand. The immigration to this place is simply immense, both from the Atlantic as well as from the Pacific states. I noticed Mr. Hurst and other California capitalists on the streets of Kingston. Mr. Whitclaw, like Billy and Cameron, all of Las Vegas made a big strike within three miles of town to-day. The strike consists of a large ledge of oxide of iron ore, and one piece was being exhibited on the streets this evening literally full of free wire gold which makes the boys feel exceedingly happy.

G. W. H.

Kingston, N. M., Oct. 16, 1882. To-day there was a piece of pure silver taken out of the Blackie mine, weighing 450 pounds and running 90 per cent pure silver, and worth, coin value, about fifty-four hundred dollars. New strikes are being made every day and things about Kingston are hot. I am writing this in Wilson Bros' store, and they have a piece of silver lying on their counter weighing twenty pounds and worth $240.

The Baptist Social.

Muncho lueno, some one said last night as they passed out of the Presbyterian church on their way home, and this stereotyped expression conveyed very clearly the enjoyableness of the affair. Few socials which it has been our pleasure to attend in Las Vegas, have been as interesting and as highly entertaining as this one.

The literary features were ably displayed by several ladies and gentlemen, and were greatly enjoyed by the audience who testified their appreciation by frequent and prolonged applause. The singing by the choir was also well received.

It seemed to be the desire of the ladies having the social in charge that no one should feel "out in the cold," and we judge from the flow of laughter and repartee no one could feel otherwise than "at home."

The "substantials" of the evening were served by a galaxy of young ladies who proved themselves stars in their own spheres. Among these satisfaction dispensers were Misses Lulu McDonald, Borden, Dyer, Josie Parsons, Knickerbocker, Prof. Robertson, and several others whose names we were unable to obtain.

Taken altogether it was indeed muncho weno.

Mining Notes.

John W. Mackey, the bonanza king, will soon visit Lake Valley.

When six weeks old the town of Lake Valley had over seventy houses.

The mammoth piece of horn silver that the Percha bonanza gave out recently, and which was estimated to weigh 260 pounds, proved, when put upon the scales, to pull down 340. Just think of it! A 340 pound chunk of almost pure silver found in the dirt on a hillside. No other country has ever produced such a phenomenon. The Black Range seems to be a solid mass of precious metal from Lake Valley on the south end to Ojo Caliente on the north; and half has not been found.

The Occidental mine question is settled by the final conclusion of the company to pay the remainder of the purchase money and take absolute possession. This was done last week, and the public may expect to see a stamp mill on the property at an early day. The managers of this company do not consider that they were given anything like a fair return from the ten tons milled by the Torrence mill in Socorro, and they pay no attention to it.

PERSONAL.

Miss Emily Pendaries of Raton is visiting with friends in town.

J. J. Kelly went to Deming yesterday where he will likely go into business.

R. A. Oakley left for the east yesterday. He will visit the principal cities before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Andres Sena, children and nurse went down to Bernalillo yesterday on a visit to friends.

Pinio Pino went back to Santa Fe yesterday. Pinio has few if any equals in the territory as an interpreter.

We were pleased to meet yesterday W. A. Winfield, soliciting passenger agent of the Texas Pacific, at El Paso, Texas.

Dick Dunn came in yesterday. Mr. Dunn's name is mentioned very favorably in connection with the office of sheriff.

W. S. Handy, of Golden is in the city. Mr. Handy came to Las Vegas with the advent of the railroad, and is full of reminiscences of the hard old days of this city.
